

Family. Together. Better.

The background of the image is a dark, textured wood grain pattern, likely a dark-stained wood like mahogany or ebony, showing vertical grain lines and some mottling. In the center, there is a white rectangular box with a thin blue border containing the text "At hand graphic".

Preaching Through Your Church

By Robert Campbell and
Kenton C. Anderson

Tuesday, April 17, 2012

While on mission to Indonesia, an American pastor felt insulted that the group of national pastors to whom he was preaching did not look him in the eye. For the duration of the sermon, these pastors kept their faces down, fixed solely on their papers. Of course his concern was relieved to learn each one actually was listening with extra care, giving their intention in order to pass along the same sermon soon after. A sense of insult transformed into a sense of honor.
